DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 52 and 75 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 52 makes reference to the female coupler positioned "below" the wrench head, however this is clearly dependent upon the orientation of the tool with respect to the work, which in the instances disclosed is a straight on orientation, not from below; thus the claim is ambiguous and indefinite.

Claim 75 has the receiving means comprising another means for attaching handles, however it depends from claim 70 which has a safety handle attached to the receiving means and as the receiving means comprises only one female attachment mechanism, there cannot be other "handles" secured to it. This renders the claim ambiguous and indefinite.

3. Normally a claim which fails to comply with the first and/or second paragraph of § 112 will not be analyzed as to whether it is patentable over the prior art since to do so would of necessity require speculation with regard to the metes and bounds of the claimed subject matter, In re Steele, 308 F.2d 859, 862-63, 134 USPQ 292, (CCPA 1962) and In re Wilson, 424 F.2d 1382, 1385, 496 USPQ 494, 496 (CCPA 1970).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-4, 12, 20, 21, 30, 38, 39, 41, 42, 56, 57, 67, 70-72, 80, 81, 87, 89-91, 98, 99 and 107-109 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Doorley which has a hammer end (7), a wrench end (5) that secures a standard socket of any shape, a central bar member (1, 2) and any type of standard handle, i.e. a ratchet wrench, pivoted end torque bar, screwdriver type, that can be attached to the square opening in the central bar member.

6. Claims 56, 67 and 70-72 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Witbeck which shows a wrench end (14), a hammer end (24) and an handle attachment means (15) or Andersson which shows a wrench end (5), a hammer end (14) and an handle attachment means (11, 12).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 40 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Doorley as to have more than one user to assist the primary user is an obvious matter of choice to one skilled in the art as any operation can be carried out by more than one user at any one time without changing the true nature of the operation of the tool.

9. Claims 5, 6, 11, 13, 31, 101, 110 and 111 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Doorley in view of Kertzsch.

Doorley shows the claimed invention except for the use of one or two holes in the female fitting to receive a detent ball on the male fitting and a slip resistant surface on the handle of the rotating handle. Kertzsch suggests that a wrench can have a female fitting (15, 25) that receives any well known type of handle, e.g. breaker bar (50) and that the fitting can also have holes (51a, 25a) to receive the ball detent of the handle. It would therefore be obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Doorley by using a female fitting that has detent receiving holes therein, in either one or all sides of the fitting and to provide the handle with a slip resistant surface because Kertzsch suggests the use of such structures in a wrench with a female fitting to receive a well known type of handle.

10. The remaining prior art is cited only as of interest at this time.
